TOLET SERVICES

Socialbnb is a unique opportunity to explore more than usual during your trip. It is a win-win situation: on the one hand you as a traveler can get insights to some social projects you would most likely have never heard of before and you can support them in the same time with your stay. And on the other hand, it is a really good chance for these social projects to become more well-known and to get an additional source of income to secure their activities. My first stay was with a social foundation called Yawe in Uganda and I was overwhelmed by the warmly welcome and the overall experience.
